The Bridge School - RSHE Curriculum

- This curriculum framework is a guideline to be adapted, differentiated and tailored to suit the needs, ability and learning preferences of each student. Areas from previous or future topics may need to be covered at different times for certain students. A flexible approach is needed and all teaching must be age and developmentally appropriate. A unique pathway may need to be identified, covering some topics from earlier years and some from future years in order to meet the needs of an individual.
- The way that you teach and organise your lessons will depend on the needs of your group and the topics can be selected and arranged to meet these needs effectively. Parents should be kept informed throughout the year so that they can support at home and reinforce the key messages.
- Each phase should teach RSHE at the same time on the same day each week so that students can join a different group if this would be more appropriate for their needs / level of understanding, for example some children begin to go through puberty aged 8.
- The lessons should be taught in a dynamic way, incorporating a range of activities in each session, for example: Role play: practicing saying 'no!' in an assertive way and acting out 'safe and unsafe' interactions and evaluating them as a group in terms of body language, appropriate proximity, eye gaze (e.g not staring at private areas of the other persons body), social and cooperative games, interactive powerpoints, using a range of engaging resources.

Themes that will run throughout a students' school life and underpin everything we do at The Bridge School:

- Safeguarding: Knowing who is the DSL and who the DDSs are. How can I report something that has happened / is happening / something I am worried about. Staff being alert to disclosures, changes in behaviours, topics of discussion etc.
- PFA Outcomes underpin the curriculum with an emphasis on independent living, carrying out personal care routines, future plans and employment, healthy living, making choices and having a voice and being active members of the community.
- The multidisciplinary team comprising therapists, teachers and teaching assistants work closely together to ensure a holistic approach.
- Supporting students to make sense of their experience(s) and find ways to manage their emotions and feelings by creating an environment of safety, connection and compassion at all times.
- Teaching consent through everything we do.
- Reinforcing public and private areas and touch.
- Awareness of safe and unsafe people.
- An emphasis on having a voice and supporting students to develop their ability to use it to make meaningful choices their lives.
- A trauma informed curriculum, following the 5 principles of trauma informed care: safety, choice, collaboration, trustworthiness and empowerment.
- Promoting a culture of tolerance and respect, where diversity is celebrated and challenging all forms of discrimination. [2010 Equality Act, The Protected Characteristics are : age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race religion or belief, sex and sexual orientation].
