

This is a strange time to be writing a first newsletter to introduce myself, say hello and tell you that I hope you are all keeping safe and well.

I need to thank you all for answering our daily calls and letting us speak to the children to let them know they are not forgotten and we care that they are not at school at the moment. It is important to us that you are all ok and managing in these strangest of circumstances and we look forward to welcoming everyone back to school just as soon as we can. In the meantime, I wanted to share some of the fantastic work that has been going on at Fen Rivers over the last few weeks and show you the amazing Solar Systems that were made by the children in Dolphins class, as well as sharing with you the fun that was had during a recent whole school Friday afternoon game of football. I look forward to showcasing a lot more of the children's wonderful work with you in the weeks and months to come.

Whilst we are not in the building 'the school' as such goes on and we will continue to provide lots of fun learning for the children to engage with. At this time mental health and wellbeing is of highest importance and a routine will support with this. There are lots of ideas for things to tune into online on the 'Home Learning' pages of the school website as well as some fun videos of the staff teaching and even Mr Loza trying to get you all active. I hope you will want to join in and send him in your scores. If you want to send in pictures of some of the fun you have been having whilst learning in different ways I would love to share them on next week's newsletter. I know many of you have been baking, using Mrs Cole's recipes, or your own and we have lots of budding gardeners. Please feel free to email anything in that you are happy for me to share on the newsletter. In the meantime, stay safe and well and enjoy each other's company.
