As the term draws to a close, we have really enjoyed receiving your feedback this week following annual reports going home. It has been really pleasing to hear that you feel your children's reports reflect closely the journey they have been on this year and that you can see how the targets set will help them move forwards further next year.

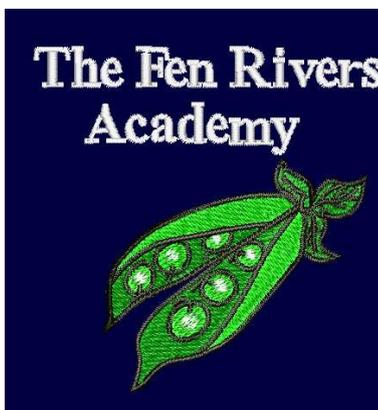

It has been a lovely week, with so much fun learning going on. Children are developing their sensory experiences as part of our therapeutic approach and have been dying a range of materials, including rice, pasta and partly themselves! Next week Year 6 will be experimenting with tie dying processes in preparation for working on some textiles pieces next year in Year 7.

We have two new authors in Tigers class. Children have been writing and creating their own published versions of The Mr Men stories, complete with their own characters, Mr Banana and Little Miss Surfer. They will be added to the learning pages of the school website if you want to share in just how wonderful they are.

The work on World War Two continues and this week has seen a re-enactment of The Battle of the Bulge, complete with toy soldiers and shaving foam and a VE Street Party, during which children said 'Goodbye and Thank you!' to Mr Race who leaves us at the end of this term.

The new uniform has been slightly delayed but the supplier website should be updated with the ordering processes over the weekend and I will share with you next week how to get hold of additional uniform over the summer should you be planning to do so. The t-shirts we are providing will be sent home in the first week of term if they have not arrived on site by the end of this term. Apologies for any inconvenience caused.

One of our wonderful Year 6 children in Polar Bears decided, off his own back, to hold a charity event today for the Children's Cancer Trust, raising over £50 so far. I am sure you will be as proud as we are of him. As a class the children have decided that this will be their charity of the year next year and we will hold events during the year that we hope you will be able to join in with.

Although the term for children finishes on Wednesday next week there will be staff on site all week if there are any queries. Please do not hesitate to contact us via email or through the school office.

Have a wonderful Summer. We are really looking forward to having you all back in September for the next stage of the Fen Rivers journey.

Please enjoy the photos of the wonderful things that have been happening this week...
