Another week has flown by and the Fen Rivers Team have been busy preparing a little surprise which you'll find on Class Dojo next time you log on. We want you to know how very proud we are of you and how odd it must be feeling to be off school for so long. These really are unprecedented times.

This week whilst we have been preparing lessons on World War 2 we have realised that it was during the outbreak of War, before most of us were born, that schools last closed on such a large scale. At that time many children were sent to the country to live away from their families to keep them safe. At this time we are at least all together and able to stay safe at home. Each week when I clap for our carers and the NHS I also clap for all of you, for doing your bit in staying safely at home and making sure you protect your families and the NHS. So well done everyone and hang in there.

Hopefully things will be back to normal soon and we will be welcoming you back. The staff are all missing you but we are really enjoying sharing the work you are completing each week and seeing how much progress you are making!

Here are some of the things you have been getting up to at home... planting, gardening, baking, drawing, finding out about the skeleton and the Human Body, learning about World War 2, exercising, writing diaries and journals, reading, telling your teachers about how you have learned to ride your bike and tell the time, and submitting loads of work on Purple Mash.

We've been hearing really great things about all of the learning going on! Give yourselves a gold star!
