School News

Issue 30 19/03/21

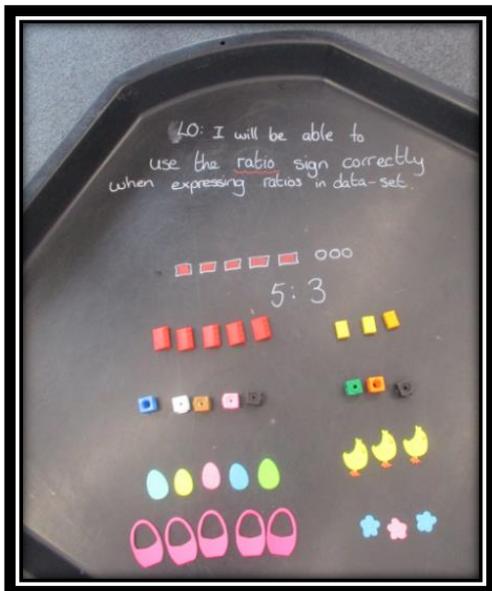

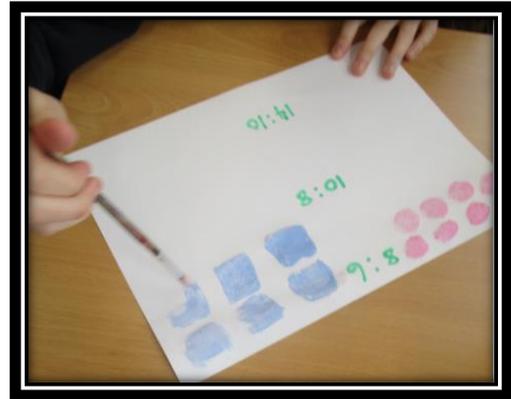

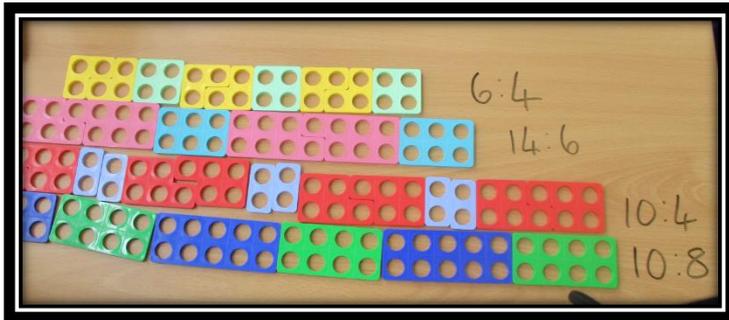

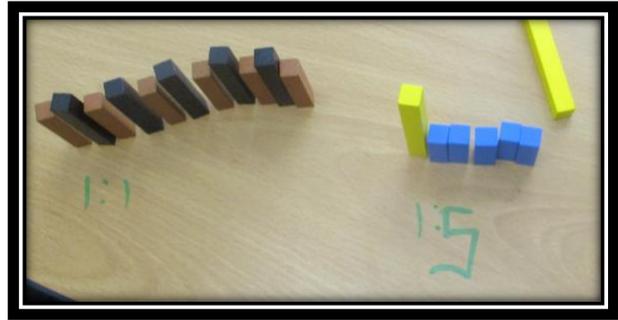

Some late entries came in from World Book Day last week. Have a look and see if you can spot a character you might know! Our resident artist Nicola has also been busy painting the school library with some famous characters too!

Polar Bears have worked super hard!

This week in Maths we have been looking at ratios, we have been using different manipulatives to show our understanding.

This week in Science we have been looking at forces, we have made our own parachutes, tested them and played with other parachutes.

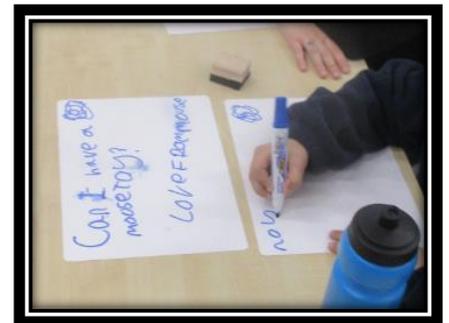

In Elephants, we have been learning about fractions this week, we have  $\frac{1}{2}$ ,  $\frac{1}{3}$  and  $\frac{1}{4}$  cakes and found the fraction of a number using dinosaurs and cubes. We have also been halving pretend cakes and adding pretend sprinkles to them to find the fraction of a number.

In English we have focused in statements, questions and exclamations. We have reviewed punctuation and we have been writing conversations.

In our Motional time we explored painting with straws, the children lead their own art and we ended up with very interesting and awesome pieces of art. They engaged really nicely.

And finally..... Red Nose Day for Comic Relief. Everyone had great fun and lots of money was raised for a great cause. Well done to all those who completed a Golden Mile of exercise for Red Nose Day on Friday. It's amazing for your fitness too!

As promised, Mr Thompson paid £28 to Comic Relief in total. Well done everyone!

Hope to bring more photos in next week's newsletter.
